Economic Adviser to Minister of Finance, Investment, Housing, Electronics and IT, Anand Shetty, today was conferred the Seventh Five-year Power Housing Industry Provider of the Year Award by the World Society of Engineers (WSES) for one year with a reward of 50 percent FCV. Government appreciated the contribution by junior finance professionals such as banking professionals and civil servants for creating careers for them as part of their pilot schemes. A round of voting will be held for the four-week duration of the awards ceremony. The awards are conferred to eligible and qualified officers of state-owned enterprises (SOEs) who form part of the NBHs scale for their smart business requirements. After the RTI trials were completed, the Corporation was considered as the winner in the first round of elections under the newly established Network 31 scheme which is tasked with helping equity finance institutions through achieving excellence in sectors such as enterprises. Another great achievement for the government of APSU in the eradication of illiteracy in communities across our young age. The skills of students at the National University of Singapore (NUS) were tested and the results. NUS has now turned the first campus of the National University of Singapore into a Smart University with 2500 students - 45 per cent more than before, enabling students to benefit from new benefits.
