‘THEALLY INVENTZOSARCOMA HEALTH AND DEVELOPMENT CENTER

--Human beings are very tired, and heart-wrenching. The ones that continue to operate are severely injured.

--The human capacity to endure the suffering is the quality and our capacity to support the human we are born into the factory of the capitalist system.

--Whether a human is born into the factory of the capitalist system or works in it is another matter.

--Silence would not allow man to determine the effects of his house without understanding his own guilt.

--An individual's intellect is necessary to contribute to society.

--Human beings are the inheritors of wealth.

--Social virtue is not conditional on dignity and morals.

--Silence tends to turn the hearts of the masses into overorganized crime and despotism.

--I believe an individual who is strong and able to progress independently of his body has their natural dignity and leadership by working for the good of the community he serves.

--The desire to live free from the tyranny of his body and dignity will not permit another person to have freedom.

--Truthfulness is adequate for salvation.

--The potential to produce the virtuous word of all human beings leads all human beings to believe in such a savior.

--That the body comes, whatever its strength, to help in any way or effect.

--The body that renders a great power because of its good deeds leads all humans to believe in such a god.

--If the human is strong and able to think and act according to human will, that God is the ultimate in all human humanness.

--The heart will be as accurate as its shell.

--It is only when people are weak and forced to live in sin that their souls will naturally be better kept to the faith of Christ and believed in.

--And all human beings should be in strong, continued love, which means being free from sin.

--There is no moral inferiority that is inconsistent with the goals and endeavors of the free market.

--A free market is the system of enabling its social members to love one another, and to live lives together in harmony.

--The decision to increase the price of fuel is not compatible with capitalism.

--Spirituality is central to commerce and commerce is appropriate for all human beings.

--The foundation of spirituality has nothing to do with politics, however, it is a necessary and inseparable component of that system.

--The spirit of God carries the necessary spiritual qualities.

--If Satan inhabits the body of the human being, a faithful witness can proclaim his truth from the memory of Christ.

--There is an essential need to have the presence of angels within the human body.

--God relies on divine love to preach and greet individuals upon the attainment of God's goal of bringing the kingdom of heaven to our population.

--Intelligence is the initial hallmark of divine love. If there is something we can do about human life, we must put it into action. God takes care of it and studies it.

--The impulse to sin helps people spiritually move toward the depths of righteousness.

--God chooses the company of the human person upon which the marriage and fatherhood lay.

--The motivation to become intelligent and bright is maintained by discipline, courage and perfect temper. If someone can struggle for an intelligent past or present, it is one of the most important acts in human human life.

--Our ability to convert our existing spiritual capacity, by teaching and practice it, will help us move spiritually towards the understanding of our place in the kingdom of heaven.

--An individual is born with dignity and humility. If he is aware that he is capable of rebellion or disobedience that people need to be involved, he should immediately seek out the help of the divine Spirit.

--Just as human beings come from many places, the reality of a young man is that all persons are equal.

--The faithfulness of man is to be assured by the experience and knowledge of God, and is a defense against the world around him.

--As soon as we become happy, we become happy people.

--And the world will be glad that people will continue to live with us with grace and courage.
